Collection and Use of Personal Information

TKCS does not collect any personal information through thekidsclosetsale.com except that knowingly and willingly supplied by the user for the purpose of providing the services/information requested through our site. We will collect personal identification information from users only if they voluntarily submit this information to us. Personal identifying information may be collected through e-newsletter forms, links or buttons to e-mail subscription opt-in forms, online request forms, contests, feedback forms, surveys and personal interest forms. Any information that the user provides, such as name, address, email, ZIP code, age, gender and income will be stored in a secure location and will be used only for those purposes stated.

When you choose to submit such personal information, you are transferring that information into the United States of America and are consenting to such transfer. Users can always refuse to supply personal identification information, noting that choosing to do so may prevent the user from engaging in certain site-related activities. Users of our services, such as e-newsletter subscriptions, may also withdraw consent for the use of their personal information at any time. To review, update or delete your collected data or to withdraw consent for use, contact thekidsclosetsale@ptd.net.

While on the TKCS website you may voluntarily choose to be added to TKCS email lists. When you choose that option, TKCS will place you on lists to receive information about our sale, discount coupons, contests and other sale news. You may at any time change your options or remove yourself from this email list from an unsubscribe link located at the bottom of every email.

We may collect non-personal identification information about users whenever they interact with our website. We collect the domain name from each site visitor as well as statistical information, such as the number of visitors and the pages viewed. Non-personal identification information may include the browser name, the type of computer being use and technical information about the user's means of connection to our site, such as the operating system and the Internet service providers utilized and other similar information. The information we collect is used to enhance the usability and improve the content of our web pages. It may be used to personalize information and for statistical purposes.

Personal information will not be shared with third-parties unless indicated and when approved by the user, if the user opts-in to sharing information or unless required to do so by law, such as to comply with a subpoena, court orders, legal process from law enforcement agencies or similar legal proceedings. We provide information to investigate or prevent suspected illegal activities, when we believe in good faith that disclosure is necessary to protect our rights, protect your safety or the safety of others, investigate fraud, or respond to a government request, in certain situations, we may be required to disclose personal data in response to lawful requests by public authorities, including to meet national security or law enforcement requirements and to a third-party with your prior consent to do so.

TKCS will retain personal data we process until the visitor/user notifies us that he/she no longer wishes to receive the services or information for which the data was collected. TKCS will retain and use this personal information as necessary to comply with our legal obligations, resolve disputes and enforce our agreements.

Protection of Personal Information

TKCS has processes in place intended to protect user information and maintain security of data. These safeguards help prevent unauthorized access, maintain data accuracy and ensure the appropriate use of data. However, despite our preventative measures and those of our partners, no guarantee can be made that your information and data will be secure from intrusions and unauthorized release to third-parties.
